

In Partnership with

Father and Daughter Adventure Weekend

“Do you want to understand more about how to build strength in your daughter as she navigates the challenges of becoming a young woman?”

“Do you want to connect with your daughter on a deeper level?”

“Do you want to experience a great adventure and have fun together with her for a weekend?”

As the first and most significant male figure in your daughters life you will have a profound impact on how she feels about her own self-worth and how she navigates the enormous pressure on her as she grows toward womanhood.

This weekend combines fun and learning that will give you the opportunity to connect with your daughter as well as gain some basic insights in to how to be an “Intentional Father”.

Sean Johns presenter for “The fathering project” and founder of “4Fathers”, works with dads and their children, guiding them in the development of strong authentic relationships.

This camp is run by trained presenters and adventure guides, and located at one of NSW leading adventure camp facilities. It will be one of the highlights you will have with your daughter all year:

Fathers will have the opportunity to

- 1) Spend quality one on one time with their daughters
- 2) Experience some great adventure stuff such as Horse riding, caving, archery, canoing etc with trained guides, (no experience required)
- 3) Hear valuable information from a trained presenter on key aspects of fathering daughters.
- 4) Mix with other fathers looking to build the same relationship with their daughters
- 5) Visit a beautiful part of the country and stay at the Mountain Trails Adventure Camp in Wee Jasper NSW.
